committed before it took effect, Sept. 1900, even though sentence was pronounced after the law took effect. The court, however, denies the contention that sentences are wholly void and converted to life sentences should be released. It holds that the sentence is valid for the minimum term fixed by the court. This decision will affect the sentences of about two hundred convicts in Michigan prisons, all of whom must be released upon the expiration of their minimum terms.

TOLD OF NOMINATION

subordination of self to the common and of successful government. We who have been entrusted with power as public servants, during the past seven years of administration and legislation now come before the people content to be judged by our record of achievement. In the years that have gone by we have made the dead square with the living, and we are content to follow out the great lines of public policy which the Republican party has already laid down; a public policy to which we are giving, and shall give, united, and therefore an efficient, support.

In all of this we are more fortunate than our opponents, who now appeal for confidence on the ground, which some express and some seek to have confidentially understood, that if triumphant they may be trusted to prove false to every principle which in the past eight years they have laid down as vital, and to leave undisturbed those very acts of the administration because of which they ask that the administration itself be driven from power. Scarcely their present attitude as to their past record is that some of them were mistaken and others sincere. We make our appeal in a wholly different spirit. We are not constrained to keep silent on any vital question; we are divided on no vital question; our policy is continuous, and is the same for all sections and localities. There is nothing experimental about the enforcement of the law; the people to continue in power, for our performance in the past, our proved governmental efficiency, is a guarantee as to our promises for the future. Our opponents, either openly or secretly, according to their several temperaments, now ask the people to trust their present promises in consideration of the fact that they intend to treat their past promises as null and void. We know our own minds and we have kept of the same mind for a sufficient length of time to give our policy coherence and sanity. In such a fundamental matter as the enforcement of the law we do not have to depend upon promises, but merely to ask that our record be taken as an earnest of what we shall continue to do. In dealing with the great organizations known as trusts we have had to explain why the laws were not enforced, but to point out that they actually have been enforced and that legislation has been enacted to increase the effectiveness of their enforcement. We do not have to propose to "turn the rascals out," for we have shown in very deed that the nation under a diligent administration of public officials can be found who have the trust he will be punished to the full extent of the law without regard to whether he was appointed under a Republican or Democratic administration. This is the efficient way to turn the rascals out and to keep them out, and it has the merit of sincerity. Moreover the betrayals of trust in the last seven years have been insignificant in number who have betrayed with the extent of the public service. Never has the administration of the government been on a cleaner and higher level; never has the public work of the nation been done more honestly and efficiently.

Assuredly it is unwise to change the policies which have worked so well, and which are now working so well. Prosperity has come at home. The national honor and interest have been upheld abroad. We have placed the finances of the nation upon a sound and solid basis. We have done this with the aid of money which was formerly our opponents, but who would neither openly nor silently acquiesce in the heresy of unsound finance; and we have done this against the convinced and violent opposition of the mass of our present opponents who still refuse to recant the unsound opinions which for the moment they think it inexpedient to assert. We know what we mean when we speak of an honest and stable currency. We mean the same thing from year to year. We do not have to avoid a definite and exclusive commitment on the most important issue which has recently been before the people, and which may at any time in the near future be before them again. Upon the principles which underlie this issue, the divisions of the half of our number do not clash with those of the other half. So long as the Republican party is in power the gold standard is settled, not as a matter of temporary political expediency, but because of shifting conditions in the production of gold in certain mining centers, but in accordance with what we regard as the fundamental principles of national morality and wisdom.

Under the financial legislation which we have enacted there is now ample circulation for every business need; and every dollar of this circulation is worth a dollar in gold. We have reduced the interest-bearing debt and in still larger measure the interest on that debt. All of the war taxes imposed during the Spanish war have been removed with a view to relieving the people of the burden of the accumulation of an unnecessary surplus. The result is that hardly ever before have the expenditures and income of the government so closely corresponded in a fiscal year that has just closed the excess of income over the ordinary expenditures was nine millions of dollars. This does not take account of the fifty-million dollar surplus of the accumulated surplus for the purchase of the isthmian canal. It is an extraordinary proof of the sound financial condition of the nation that instead of following the usual course in such matters and throwing the burden upon posterity by an issue of bonds we were able to make the payment outright and yet after it to have in the treasury a surplus of one hundred and sixty-one millions. Moreover, we were able to pay this fifty millions of dollars out of hand without causing the slightest disturbance to business conditions.

We have enacted a tariff law under which during the past few years the country has attained a height of material well-being never before reached. Wages are higher than ever before. That which over the past years has been the need arises from the tariff adjustment of the tariff schedules is undoubted; but such changes can with safety be made only by those whose devotion to the principle of a protective tariff is beyond question. For the changes would amount not to readjustment but to repeal. The readjustment when made must maintain and not destroy the protective principle. To the farmer, the merchant, the manufacturer this is vital; but perhaps no other man is so much interested as the wage worker in the maintenance of our present economic system, both as regards the duties and the tariff. The standard of living of our wage workers is higher than that of any other country, and it cannot so remain unless we have a protective tariff which shall always keep as a minimum a rate of duty sufficient to cover the difference between the labor cost here and abroad. Those who, like our opponents, "demand" protection and thereby explicitly commit themselves to the proposition that if they were to remove the tariff no heed would be paid to the necessity of meeting this difference between the standards of living for wage workers here and in other countries; and therefore on this point their antagonism to our position is fundamental. Here we are asked that the duties and the tariff be judged by what has been done in the immediate past. We ask that such a sensible man compare the workings of the present tariff law and the conditions which obtain under the workings of the preceding tariff law of 1891 and the conditions which that tariff of 1891 helped to bring about.

We believe in reciprocity with foreign nations on the terms outlined in President McKinley's last speech, which urged the extension of our foreign markets by reciprocal agreements whenever they could be made without injury to American industry and labor. It is a singular fact that the only great reciprocity treaty recently adopted—that with Cuba—was finally opposed almost alone by the Republican party. There were no other Republicans who stated that it favored reciprocity, and here again we ask that the worth of our words be judged by comparing their deeds with ours. On this Cuban reciprocity treaty there were no other Republicans who stated that it favored reciprocity, and here again we ask that the worth of our words be judged by comparing their deeds with ours. On this Cuban reciprocity treaty there were no other Republicans who stated that it favored reciprocity, and here again we ask that the worth of our words be judged by comparing their deeds with ours.

We have already shown in actual fact that our policy is to do fair and equal justice to all men, paying no heed to whether a man is rich or poor; paying no heed to his race, his creed or his birthplace.

We recognize the organization of capital and the organization of labor as natural outcomes of our industrial system. Each and every organization is to be favored so long as it acts in a spirit of justice and of regard for the rights of others. Each is to be granted the full protection of the law and each in turn is to be held to a strict obedience to the law; for no man is above and no man below it. The humblest individual is to have his rights safeguarded as scrupulously as those of the strongest organization, for each is to receive justice, no more and no less. The people with which we have to deal are our modern industrial and social life are manifold; but the spirit in which it is necessary to approach their solution is simply the spirit of honesty, of courage and of good sense.

In inaugurating the great work of irrigation in the west the administration has been enabled by congress to take one of the longest strides even under our government toward utilizing our vast national domain for the settler, the actual home-maker.

Ever since this continent was discovered the need of an isthmian canal to connect the Pacific and the Atlantic has been recognized; and ever since the birth of our nation such a canal has been planned. At that the dream has become a reality. The canal is now being built by the government of the United States. We conducted the negotiations for its construction with the ablest and most scrupulous honor, and in a spirit of the largest generosity toward those nations whose territory it was to run. Every slightest effort which could be devised by the spirit of the nation or the spirit of self-interest was made in order to defend the treaty with Panama and thereby prevent the consummation of this work. The construction of the canal is now an assured fact; but most unfortunately it is uncertain whether the carrying out of a momentous policy to those who have endeavored to defeat the whole undertaking.

Our foreign policy has been so conducted that not one of our but one and have proved our assertion that our mission in the island was one of justice, and not of self-aggrandizement; and thereby no less than by our action in Venezuela and Panama we have shown that the Monroe doctrine is a living reality, designed for the hurt of no nation, but for the protection of civilization on the western continent and for the peace of the world. The steady growth in power has gone hand in hand with a strengthening disposition to use this power with strict regard for the rights of others and for the cause of international justice and good will.

We earnestly desire friendship with all the nations of the new and old worlds, and we endeavor to place our relations with them upon a basis of reciprocal advantage instead of hostility. We hold that the prosperity of each nation is an aid and not a hindrance to the prosperity of the world. We believe in international amity for the same reasons that we believe in peace within our own borders; and we seek this peace not because we are afraid or unready, but because we think peace is right as well as advantageous.

American interests in the Pacific have rapidly grown. American enterprise has laid a cable across this, the greatest of oceans. We have proved in effective fashion that we wish Chinese capital and labor to be in the Philippines, and we desire its integrity and independence. Our foothold in the Philippines greatly strengthens our position in the competition for the control of the sea, but we are governing the Philippines in the interest of the Philippine people themselves. We have already given them a large share in the government, and our purpose is to increase this share as rapidly as we have evidence of increasing fitness for the task. The great majority of the officials of the islands, whether elective or appointive, are natives of the islands, and we are providing for a legislative assembly. This is the first step to be taken in the future; and it would be eminently unwise to declare what our next step will be until this first step has been taken and the people are manifest. To have gone faster than we have already gone in giving the islands a constantly increasing measure of self-government would have been disastrous. At the present moment to give political independence to the islands would result in the immediate loss of civil rights, personal liberty and public order, as regards the islands of the Philippines. The great goods by us and only keep them because we vigilantly safeguard and guarantee them. To withdraw our government from the islands at this time would mean to the average native the loss of his bravely-won civil freedom. We have established in the islands a government by American assistance, by which we are steadily striving to transform its into self-government by the Filipinos assisted by Americans.

The principles which we uphold should appeal to all our countrymen. In all portions of the country the men and women who are the spiritual heirs of those who upheld the hands of Abraham Lincoln, for we are striving to do our work in the spirit in which Lincoln approached his. During the seven years that have just passed there is no duty, domestic or foreign, which we have shirked, no necessary task which we have feared to undertake, or which we have not performed with reasonable efficiency. We have never pleaded impotence. We have never sought refuge in criticism and complaint instead of action. We face the future with our past and our present as guarantors of our promises; and we are content to stand or to fall by the record which we have made and are making.

As the president concluded his speech Speaker Cannon, chairman of the notification committee, grasped his hand and congratulated him cordially. George B. Cortelyou, chairman of the Republican national committee, then extended his congratulations. He was followed by all the members of the notification committee and guests.

The speech of the president will be circulated extensively in the campaign as aside from the letter of acceptance which he will issue in a few weeks, it will be his only public utterance during the campaign. All details of the arrangement for the ceremony of notification had been worked out carefully and from the arrival of the special train from New York with the notification committee aboard until its departure not a hitch occurred.

President Roosevelt personally received the members of the committee and other guests as they arrived at Sagamore Hill. He knew almost every man personally. After the visitors had been greeted by the president Secretary Lobb presented each to Mrs. Roosevelt and to Miss Alice Roosevelt. Mrs. Roosevelt extended a cordial welcome and the gracious hospitality of her home.

After the informal reception which followed the address, the president, Speaker Cannon and all visitors assembled on the lawn and were photographed. A buffet luncheon followed, and the guests were served by the president's children and his nephews and nieces.

During the afternoon, before the departure of the guests, the president had a conference with several of them. National chairman Cortelyou, who was the overnight guest of the president, left this afternoon for New York. To-morrow he will leave for Chicago to attend to business at the western headquarters. He expects in a few days to announce the personnel of the national executive committee. Later he will appoint an advisory committee.

To-morrow morning at ten President Roosevelt will start for Washington, where he will arrive at 6:15 p. m. He will probably return to Oyster Bay in two weeks.

NEGRO POPULATION

Census Figures Show Large Increase in Sangamon and Williamson Counties

The negro population of Sangamon county has increased more rapidly than in the state as a whole. The greatest increase in the state in 1900 was in the counties of Sangamon and Williamson, and is due to the influx of negro miners in the two counties. The national census report on the negro and his illiteracy is out and many facts relating to him in Illinois are given. In some of the southern counties of the state the negro population is close to half of the total. The percentage of negro population in the total population in Illinois counties in which there is one or more negroes to 100 is given below:

Join the Celebration. All Roads Lead to

The Big Store The Big Store The Big Store

We have every reason to proclaim a grand hurrah and be jubilant, as this has been the banner year of the Big Store, from basement to garret. Never before have the citizens of Jacksonville and surrounding country patronized us to such an extent, regardless of cold and rainy weather, and never before have we been so well able to supply their wants throughout the entire house. Now it is our intention, on the strength of this success and patronage to conduct a to clean out everything in the way of summer goods, remnants and broken lots, regardless of cost, so as to enable us to give our patrons from season to season nothing but new, fresh and clean merchandise, bought at the right time, in the right market, at the right prices. This does not mean that a few things will be marked down and sold cheap, but everything in the entire house will be sold at manufacturers' prices or less during this sale.

SEEING IS BELIEVING!

We mean business when we say that this is the greatest sacrifice in prices on honest, dependable, up-to-date merchandise Jacksonville has ever known. Take a day's vacation, bring your cash and visit our store. It will pay you better than going to the fair.

MARSHALS HUNTING LETTER.

Duquoin, Ill., July 27.—Last night was one of intense excitement. Over 100 armed men were picketed in the southern part of the city awaiting the coming of the train bearing non-union men, bound for Zeigler, and although informed that none would arrive, the vigilance was kept up. This morning twenty letter guards came from Zeigler heavily armed, and went west over the Illinois Central to meet the train which was expected to arrive at noon. Thirty-five Italians were sent to Zeigler this morning, but word from Christopher indicates that all but 15 stopped at the latter place.

United States marshals are hunting Joseph Leiter as a result of his action in refusing to allow the striking men to come to Zeigler to get their mail. So far they have been unable to find him.

WILL FILED.

The last will and testament of George E. Doying was filed for probate in the county clerk's office Wednesday.

The will contains but one provision, as follows: "I give, devise and bequeath to my wife, Hattie, and to her heirs and assigns forever all my property and estate, whether real, personal or mixed, and I constitute and appoint my said wife sole executrix of this, my will."

The instrument bears date of Feb. 7, 1900, and was witnessed by Andrew Russel and M. F. Dunlap.

BRYAN'S CONVICTIONS.

Editor Journal: The actions of public men should be subjected to the closest scrutiny. The fight that W. J. Bryan recently made against Judge Parker up to the time of his receiving the nomination for president, was long and bitter. He certainly did not think, when engaged in this fight, that Judge Parker was a suitable man for president. When the fight ended there was a lopsided victory across the "bloody chasm," and a submission on the part of Mr. Bryan to serve Judge Parker and help him secure the presidency, for which he had so ably, so persistently and so acrimoniously declared him unfit. Bryan was either right or wrong before the St. Louis convention. In putting up his fight on Judge Parker—if he was wrong—his present conduct in supporting Judge Parker is altogether proper from an individual standpoint. But, if he was right, his present conduct in supporting Judge Parker can not be justified. It is a case of "Josephus" whipped by the Romans to become a leading instrument in the subjugation of his people. While fighting with the Romans against his own people, Josephus eased the sting of his conscience by writing a history of his generation never saw. Mr. Bryan, as stated in the "Commoner," proposes to do something similar—formulate the principles of a dead Democratic party and reform them to his liking, that generations yet unborn may read and see the rock where he went down. Not that he is a hypocrite, but with six million souls aboard, many fathoms below the line of possible resurrection. Bryan saved himself, or rather his enemies saved him, that he might save them, and incidentally become the sad historian of his buried convictions. Of such is the kingdom of partyism. G. W. Riley.

Farmers Should Be Students.

The farmer to keep abreast of the rapid changes needs now to possess all the knowledge of a business man, to understand not only how to cultivate the farm, but must understand the requirements not alone of his state and community, but of the world, and he has to watch the development of other countries and the agencies being used to intelligently forecast the future. Hence to be a good farmer now requires study, thought, organization and co-operation one with another. Aaron Jones, Master National Grange.

Grain Fed Cattle.

During the height of the grass season it is probably not very profitable to feed grain to steers on first class pasture, particularly if that pasture be blue grass. However, as a rule, it will pay to supply a little grain, particularly if the cattle are followed by hogs.

Save the Best Mares.

Save your best mares for breeders, and then breed to the best males you can find, always of course having in view the qualities you want bred and the uses for the colts.—Farmer's Advocate.

ALTON MAY HAVE TICKET COLLECTORS

New Accident and Life Insurance Arrangement Will Be Made—General Manager Goodnow Issues Circular.

General Manager C. A. Goodnow, of the Alton, has issued a circular that will be of great interest to all employees. It applies to the accident and life insurance arrangements which have been in effect the past five years and which has proved satisfactory to the majority of the employees. By a mutual arrangement the Aetna Life Insurance company of Hartford, Conn., was given the exclusive privilege of insuring Alton employees, the railroad to pay one-half of the premium and the employee the other. By this combination employees were enabled to get insurance at half the usual rates. As a result several thousand policies were written, the monthly premium being subtracted from the employee's wage check. It is now announced that the insurance company desires to terminate the arrangement. The Alton proposes to arrange with some other company to place insurance under the same conditions. The circular is issued by Mr. Goodnow as follows:

"To employees: In 1899 this company entered into an arrangement with the Aetna Life Insurance company of Hartford, Conn., for the purpose of aiding its employees in securing accident insurance at the lowest cost. The results obtained under this arrangement not having proved satisfactory to the insurance company, the insurance company declines to renew the arrangement and it will therefore terminate. Each policy will expire upon the date of its first quarterly expiration after July 31, 1904. No further deductions will be made except those necessary to reimburse the railway company for quarterly premiums advanced by the railway company for quarterly premiums falling due prior to July 31. The management desires that its employees shall have every opportunity to obtain insurance under the best possible conditions, and will, as soon as practicable, arrange with reliable companies to operate upon its lines in the same manner and under the same conditions as are usual on other railways."

"PENALTY CARS" DISAPPEAR.

What are known as "penalty cars" are almost a thing of the past on the Alton. One week in this month there was not a single car of this kind on the system. Last week there were but five. When Mr. Taylor, the new superintendent of car service, came to the Alton a year ago, there were 900 penalty cars on the system, each one costing the Alton a dollar a day. He has been working hard to cut down this expense and has succeeded wonderfully well. By a mutual agreement among the railroads, each road pays a foreign car 20 cents a day for each day that a foreign car is on its lines either loaded or empty, up to thirty days. After it has been on a single line for thirty days the charge advances to one dollar per day until the car is returned to its owner. This scheme was devised to expedite the return of foreign cars to their owners and more nearly keep the cars of each road on its own lines. A few years ago each road operated its freight business largely with cars of other roads. Now that is all being changed. The car that wanders long from its own fireside is an exception.

TALK OF TICKET COLLECTORS.

It is reported that the C. & A. officials are figuring upon the expense of ticket collectors to be placed upon all passenger trains whose sole duties will be to pick up transportation and thus relieve the conductor of all work except the actual management of the train. The Wabash and Frisco have adopted this system and think that it pays. The collectors are paid $75 monthly. The reason for placing collectors upon the trains is not because of suspected dishonesty altogether, but, rather, it is said, because some conductors do not collect all the tickets on the train. One day recently the Alton passenger department was called upon to redeem $50 worth of tickets. It was believed in every instance that the buyer had ridden upon the ticket, but through oversight it had not been taken up. Under the law the tickets must be redeemed. If the regular conductors miss some tickets as suspected, it hardly follows that collectors who are lacking in the long training and experience of a passenger conductor, can be any more successful in a thorough collection of the transportation upon his train. It is not believed that the Alton will go to the additional expense.

CHINK ROBBERS.

San Francisco, July 27.—The most remarkable robbery in the history of this city occurred early this morning when two Chinamen with the regulation masks and revolvers, held up the restaurant of Wing Song on Eighth avenue. The place was filled with patrons, including many whites. The Celestial bandits covered the late eaters with their revolvers. Then one of them sprang to the bell and pocketed the contents—$95. Keeping their revolvers pointed at the crowd the pair backed out of the place and escaped.

RAILROAD NEWS NOTES

Items of Interest Regarding the Local Railroads—Many Passenger Agents Here.

T. J. McGrath, traveling passenger agent of the C. P. & St. L., and wife, of Peoria, were visitors in the city Wednesday.

F. F. Merritt, Chicago passenger agent of the Iron Mountain route, was in the city Wednesday on business interests.

Claude C. Hill, Chicago district passenger agent of the Wisconsin Central, transacted business and visited friends in the city Wednesday.

O. R. Unger, of Roadhouse, supervisor of electric block signals for the Chicago & Alton, was in the city Wednesday inspecting the plant here.

E. Sweeney, roadmaster of the C. & A., spent Wednesday in Bloomington on railroad business.

Daniel Fernandes, tower man, is laying off on account of the severe illness of his sister.

Engineer Hickman, of the Chicago & Alton trains, Nos. 26 and 27, has been relieved for a few days by Engineer Sherburn. Mr. Hickman has completed his mileage.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Hill spent Wednesday at the fair in St. Louis.

J. L. Brady, of this city, engineer of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad, is laid up with an injured arm. While he was oiling he accidentally got a piece of brass in his finger and blood poison set in. His friends hope to see him at work again in a few days.

Advertising car No. 2, of Wallace Bros.' circus was in the city Wednesday, arriving over the C. P. & St. L.

Three gangs of section men, about forty in all, have been laying a new track on the Chicago & Alton, on the curve from Lafayette avenue to Independence avenue. The work is now nearly completed. The bosses of the gangs are Thomas Flynn, of the yard; J. W. Colbert, of the north end, and Joe McCabe, of Murrayville.

Conductor Draper, on train No. 88, pulled seventeen cars of cattle into the Chicago yards Wednesday over the C. & A. The Wabash carried six cars of hogs and several of cattle.

Conductors C. B. Wade, of this city, and George Conedine, of Litchfield, on the Beardstown division of the C. B. & Q., formerly the J. & St. L., received orders recently to report at Beardstown and be relieved. Mr. Cross and Tim Flaherty are now acting as conductors on trains No. 47 and No. 48. It is understood that Messrs. Conedine and Wade will take charge of a way freight. Mr. Wade running between Litchfield and Beardstown and Mr. Conedine between Litchfield and Centralia. Mr. Cross and Mr. Flaherty, the new conductors, are experienced railroad men, having served many years on the Burlington on another division.

L. Carnes, of Decatur, trainmaster of the Wabash, transacted business in the city Wednesday.

S. E. Cotter, superintendent of the Decatur-Hannibal division of the Wabash, was in the city Wednesday on railroad business.

Joe Walcott's Relapse.

Joe Walcott, the once dreaded "Black Demon," is rapidly getting to the end of his pugilistic string. At Baltimore recently he was knocked out in the fourth round by Young Peter Jackson, but there were many good judges at the ringside who believe Walcott quit in a cold blooded fashion, unable to withstand the punishment he was getting. The blow that made the "Demon" hunt the scyamore was a terrific right hand smash in the pit of the stomach. He asserted that he was hit below the belt, but his protest of foul was not allowed.

From the start it could be seen that Jackson did not intend to play for his adversary's head, but would depend on body blows to defeat the champion. Peter assumed a crouching position, and, bringing both arms together, he completely covered his head and body.

Boston Nationals Not For Sale.

Rumors still go the rounds to the effect that the owners of the Boston Nationals, Messrs. Soden, Conant and Billings, are about to dispose of their club. Nothing is further from the minds of these gentlemen, and there is no reason to believe that the present partnership will not exist as long as the three gentlemen live.

Miss Isabelle Baldwin will entertain the Daughters of the Covenant of Centenary church at a sewing this afternoon, from 2 to 6 o'clock, at her home on South Clay avenue.

One of the pleasing features of the recital at Westminster church this evening will be a reception in the church parlors, following the program, to meet Miss Love and Mrs. J. R. Robertson.

Charles Sturtevant, of Kushla, Ala.; Clarence Schofield, of Freeport, Ill., and Prof. I. N. Wright, of Galesburg, are expected in the city to day to attend the Read-Upham wedding this evening.

AT THE EXECUTIVE MANSION

Miss Catherine Yates is hostess at a house party at the executive mansion in Springfield this week, her guests being the Misses Helen Dixon, Eleanor Capps, Mary Wadsworth and Marion Capps, of Jacksonville.

Mrs. Richard Yates received at her regular Wednesday afternoon "at home" yesterday. The mansion was beautifully decorated with summer flowers and the rooms were bright with guests during the hours of reception, between 3 and 6 o'clock. The hostess had assisting her several young girls from Jacksonville, who are the guests of her daughter, Miss Catherine Yates.—Springfield News.

IN HONOR OF MISS DAWES.

Mrs. F. J. Waddell was the hostess at an elegant luncheon given at the Country club Wednesday noon in honor of her guest, Miss Frances Dawes, of New Brighton, Pa.

The function was a most delightful one and many of the guests present had been companions of Miss Dawes in European travels. The decorations were very artistic and yellow predominated in the color scheme. An elegant menu was served and the appointments of the luncheon were perfect.

WABASH ANNUAL NIAGARA FALLS EXCURSION.

On Thursday, Aug. 18th, the Wabash will run their annual excursion to Niagara Falls, N. Y., and return for $9.50. Good for return until Aug. 29th. Phone No. 12.

HOLINESS ASSOCIATION

The National and Illinois Holiness association camp meeting will be held at the state fair grounds in Springfield Aug. 4 to 14. The meeting will be under the leadership of President L. J. Fowler, of Massachusetts, and his associates, Rev. W. Huff and Rev. B. Robinson, of Texas, and Prof. C. E. Rowley, of Toledo, Ohio, as leader of the song ministry.

Rev. L. B. Kent, of this city, who is president of the Illinois association, says that this meeting promises to be the greatest and best held in many years. The place, machinery, hall, is unequalled in the west, for comfort, protection and convenience. There is plenty of shelter for a hundred large tents and boarding hall and for seating 2000 people comfortably. With electric lights by night, protection and quiet by day and by night, open gates and welcome for all. It is near the city and five cars run each hour. Called preachers, evangelists and singers of ability will make the occasion one of great interest and spiritual benefit. Already fifty tents are engaged and assurances of a large attendance are given. A rate of one and one-third fare has been granted in the certificate plan, no certificates being signed for return before Tuesday, Aug. 9. A hundred or more people have been invited from Jacksonville and doubtless companies of ten or more can be formed and the reduced rate secured.

AFTERNOON COMPANY.

Mrs. John McCree and Mrs. M. M. Roundtree were hostesses Tuesday afternoon at a reception given at the home of the former in honor of Mrs. A. J. Hall and Mrs. Lloyd Smith, of Chicago. The hours were from 3 to 5 and about 110 guests attended. The house was beautifully decorated, the reception room in green and white and the dining room in red and green. Frappe was served by Mrs. F. W. Dabney on the north porch. Mrs. James Brown and Mrs. Sherman Spencer assisted the hostesses in receiving.

DINNER PARTY.

Mrs. E. E. Crabtree entertained a company of twenty at her home on West State street Wednesday evening at a 6 o'clock dinner, given in honor of Miss Una Upham and Walter L. Read, whose marriage will take place this evening. The function was in every way a most delightful one.

On Tuesday evening Miss Pansy King entertained for Miss Upham at her home on West College avenue.

SAIL FOR EUROPE.

New York, July 27.—Former Attorney General Knox, of Pennsylvania, and Mrs. Knox and Marshall Field, of Chicago, were among the passengers who sailed to day for Europe on the White Star line steamer Oceanic.

SIXTEEN CARS HAVE STARTED

Automobiles Enroute From New York to St. Louis—Will Pass Through Springfield.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 27.—Sixteen automobiles, carrying forty-two passengers, left New York Tuesday morning for St. Louis and all of them reported at the first night stop here in time for dinner, but one with a special permit for a non-stop record continued on its way without halting. Ostensibly a pleasure tour of a fortnight's duration, the run is actually the most severe endurance trip ever planned in this country.

Sixteen may seem a small entry as compared with previous reliability trials, but when it is considered that this number is the New York entry only, and that nominations from Boston, Syracuse, Buffalo and cities along the route to St. Louis are yet to come into line, the widespread influence of the test becomes apparent.

At Albany the New England division will be joined on the main route westward, while at almost every city between that point and Chicago groups of contestants are awaiting the cue to take their places in the national tour of the American Automobile association.

The character of the sixteen cars out of New York differed in a marked degree from those of previous runs of the kind. Where formerly it was believed that only machines of large horse power and considerable weight would be capable of surmounting the hills and standing the strain of the American roads, the trend of opinion as emphasized in this event is that light cars of moderate power are more likely to go the distance than the type first in vogue.

With the exception of a 70-horse power Peerless, specially built for Harlan W. Whipple, and a 24-horse power Pope Toledo, all of the machines starting from New York are of the Voiturette, or light touring class with horse power averaging from ten to fifteen. Two cylinder engines abound with several single cylinders represented and only two of the four cylinder type.

In this classification is not included F. A. La Roche's 20-horse power Darracq, which is not considered actually of the tour, though starting with it. Mr. La Roche left the club house, Fifth avenue and Fifty-eighth street, New York, at 16 minutes of 10 o'clock and, though nine of the regular tourists had preceded him, he was soon leading, and, with A. L. Pope, was the first arrival at Poughkeepsie at 3:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon. With a special sanction from the A. A. A. he continued on without a stop, with the object of reaching St. Louis on a five days' schedule, without permitting the engine of his machine to cease its work for an instant.

The route will be by way of Poughkeepsie, Albany, Utica, Syracuse and Rochester to Buffalo, whence it will follow the southern shore of Lake Erie through Cleveland to Toledo, and then almost due west to Chicago, through Springfield to St. Louis. The party will be preceded by a pilot machine, which will leave a train of confetti to mark the route.

Go to the Illinois Valley Fair, Griggsville, Aug. 2 to 5.

FISH FRY AND BURGOO PICNIC

HELD AT MURRAYVILLE WEDNESDAY

Annual Event Was a Grand Success—Many Varied Attractions and Athletic Program—Attendance Was Large.

The sixth annual burgoo and fish fry given by the Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church, was held in the park at Murrayville Wednesday. One of the largest crowds ever assembled in that place was entertained royally. Alderman James Babb, of Jacksonville, had charge of the soup kettles and over 200 gallons were made and disposed of. Four hundred and fifty pounds of the finest fish were fried by Mr. Babb in such a manner as to please all.

The officers during the past year were: President, Mrs. A. H. Ketter; first vice president, Mrs. Charles Ketter; second vice president, Mrs. C. T. Daniel; secretary, Miss Emma Rimbey, and treasurer, Mrs. C. F. Strang, who, with few exceptions, hold over another year, and it is due to the president and her able assistants that the affair was such a complete success.

The Ladies' Aid have tried each year to make the fish fry and burgoo surpass the preceding year, and with this idea in mind ample preparations were made for one of the largest crowds ever seen in Murrayville, and their expectations were fully realized—several thousand being in attendance throughout the day.

Each department was under a special head. The dining table was under the immediate supervision of Miss Emma Rimbey and her assistants were: Lena Wade, Linnie Rimbey, Sylvia Ketter, Clara Rimbey, Myrtle Rimbey, Mrs. William Rimbey, Mrs. William Crouse, Misses Verna Ivey, Mrs. T. G. Bush, Mrs. Bert Carter, Alva Bracewell and Harry Strang.

The soup tables were under the supervision of Mrs. Walter Hanback. Her assistants were: Mrs. N. A. Blakeman, cashier; Mrs. R. P. Brewbaker, J. B. Rimbey and Abe Wade.

The ice cream stand was in charge of Mrs. W. B. Wright, who had for her assistants Miss Susan Jones, Mrs. Hugh Million, J. E. Osborne and Ethel Rimbey. J. T. Wild was cashier.

The confectionery stand was conducted by Mrs. C. W. Ketter, assisted by Hugh Million, Julia Lemon and volunteer help.

Miss Verna Ivey had charge of selling the soup from the kettles and discharged her duties faithfully and exceedingly well.

Rev. H. C. Turner, pastor of the Methodist church, acted as chairman of the day and the principal address was made by Rev. Arthur Ewert, of Jacksonville. His remarks were listened to by an immense crowd and he proved himself able to hold the attention of the vast audience. The Murrayville band furnished music during the exercises.

One popular feature was the palm reading by Miss Sarah Davis John, of Jacksonville, assisted by Miss Mabel King, who acted as doorkeeper. This attraction proved popular.

In addition to the above a fine athletic program was given, which was thoroughly enjoyed by the young people present.

Among those in attendance from a distance, were the following: Bert VanWinkle, Robert Tilton, Miss Ora Hull, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Masters and daughter, Mrs. Will Scott, Mrs. Charles Million, Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Wyatt, Capt. and Mrs. J. E. Wright and J. H. Reid, of Jacksonville; J. H. DeLong, of Waverly; Charles Beerup, of Franklin; Mrs. J. W. Israel, of Ashland; S. T. Watt and family, of Beardstown; Mrs. Henry Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Curtis, of Manchester; John Hughes and Mrs. Lizzie Adams, of Franklin.

The affair was a grand success in every way. Over forty persons were present from this city.

You'll meet old friends at the fair Aug. 2, 3, 4, 5, Griggsville.

WILL MOVE TO ST. LOUIS.

Chicago, July 27.—William Campbell, general freight agent of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad, has resigned and it is said the general freight department, as well as other departments, will be moved from Chicago to St. Louis, where they will be merged with the freight department of the St. Louis & San Francisco company.

WISCONSIN PROHIBITIONISTS.

Madison, Wis., July 27.—The Prohibition state convention met here to day. Rev. W. D. Cox, of Milwaukee, was chairman. After listening to speeches the convention took a recess until evening. The only business of the evening session was to make the temporary organization permanent and adjourn until to-morrow. Six of eleven congressional districts nominated candidates for congress. Special interest attaches to the nomination of I. J. Noyes in the second district because of the open hostility of Governor LaFollette toward Congressman Babcock and threat of Babcock's opponents to bring out an independent candidate against him.

80 PER CENT OF THE ADULT POPULATION SUFFER FROM ONE PAINFUL AILMENT.

Think what this means. Imagine the amount of misery that exists and is endured simply because people do not know there is an absolute cure.

The only way to cure any complaint is to remove the cause. There are very few diseases or ailments that can be cured by external application—and piles is not one of them. Piles can be cured; the treatment must, however, be internal, for the cause of piles is an internal disorder of the liver or the bowels. Even catarrh of the stomach and bowels can be cured by Dr. PERRIN'S PILE SPECIFIC, The Internal Remedy. Herein is an instance of what this practically infallible remedy will do:

Dr. C. A. Perrin, Helena, Mont.—Dear Sir: I have nearly finished the former bottle of Perrin's Pile Specific and am practically well. My case was one which most physicians would have pronounced incurable, as I was afflicted with a dysentery and compelled to go to the toilet room from three to five times each day and each time would bleed from one-half to one teaspoonful. I had to resort to bandages and absorbent cotton to check the flow of blood, and now the past ten or twelve days there has been no sign of bleeding and my appetite is good; have gained ten pounds in weight and feel like a new lease of life was given me.

Very truly yours,
October 20th, 1902. Yerington, Nev.

CONDENSED STORIES.

How an Irish Juror's Wit Helped the Defendant.

John G. Carlisle tells a story of his early days when he was counsel for an insurance company in Kentucky, says the New York Herald.

The company had brought an action against the proprietor of a small dry goods store which had been destroyed by fire under rather suspicious circumstances.

The proprietor was put on the stand, and Mr. Carlisle, in his capacity as counsel, undertook during the course of cross examination to break down the story of the fire.

All the artifices of the questioner were, however, of no avail, for the proprietor stuck to his tale and there seemed to be little hope of discrediting the testimony offered by him.

The defendant was about to leave the box, when an Irishman, who had been following the testimony with ill concealed impatience, shouted out in stentorian tones:

"So, me man, whin you'd sit fire to the store, ye ran away, heh?"

At this the unfortunate tradesman became visibly embarrassed, stuttered and spluttered and finally, under the renewed questioning of Mr. Carlisle, who was not slow to follow up the advantage afforded by the Celt's unexpected outburst, the proprietor virtually admitted his guilt, whereupon his conviction speedily ensued.

When the proceedings were over Mr. Carlisle sought out the Irish juror, whom he complimented on his ready wit. "But," said he, "my friend, how did you come to put that question? It certainly enabled me to win the case."

"Ye win it?" repeated the juror scornfully. "Ye win it? Be gob, I rather think I done it myself."

The Only One at Home.

A friend of Philip Verillighs, author of "Bruever Jim's Baby," tells this amusing story of him. Mr. Mighels was in London at the time, and one morning he informed Mrs. Mighels that he had several errands and would not be back for several hours. He was going to see a lawyer, a doctor and a literary agent, and after his business was attended to he would gratify an old wish of his and go to see Goldsmith's grave. After a very brief period, to Mrs. Mighels's surprise, he returned.

THE ONLY ONE IN WAS GOLDSMITH.

"Why," exclaimed his wife, "how did you accomplish so much in such a short time?"

"Because," said Mr. Mighels, "the lawyer, the doctor and the literary agent were all out. The only one in was Goldsmith."

A Clever Retort.

Leonard Bacon, who was one of the best known theologians in New England a quarter of a century ago, was attending a conference in one of the New England cities and some assertions he made in his address were vehemently objected to by a member of the opposition. "Why," he expostulated, "I never heard of such a thing in all my life!" "Mr. Moderator," rejoined Bacon calmly, "I cannot allow my opponent's ignorance, however vast, to offset my knowledge, however small."—Chicago News.

Food, Not Form.

Assistant Attorney General Robb while in a Washington restaurant sat near a man from Texas who evidently had not traveled to any extent. The waiter said to the stranger from the Lone Star State: "Here's the bill of fare, sir." "Say, look here," shouted the Texan. "I haven't had a mouthful to eat yet, and I'll be hanged if I'll pay any bill till I get the goods. Fetch on your vittles first and I'll pay for 'em afterward."

GLIMPSES OF MORTON

Secretary of the Navy a Man of Action.

HOW HE BROKE AN OFFICE GATE

Anecdotes That Depict His Manner and Energy as a Young Man—An Instance of His Alertness to Business Opportunities—Known as a Good Story Teller.

The most noticeable characteristic about Paul Morton, the new secretary of the navy, is his scorn for obstacles, says a Chicago special dispatch to the New York Tribune. A story is told about a gate through a railing that fenced off a part of an office in which Mr. Morton worked at one time. This gate had one of those mysterious patent fasteners which would not work unless one knew the right spot and touched it. Preoccupied with the affairs in hand, Mr. Morton bumped against that gate day after day. Finally in one of his swinging strides he broke the lock, and this evidently pleased him. Yet it did not satisfy him. Thereafter he used his foot and daily played football with the gate until he broke its hinges, and the janitor was ordered to carry it away.

Mr. Morton's manner is abrupt and decisive, but there is a kindly strain in his nature that endears him to all his associates and particularly to those working under him. For instance, he once succumbed to the eloquence of a pass fiend and gave the man a free ride over one of the lines of the Santa Fe railroad, of which he was vice president. A day or so later the representative of another road to whom appeals had also been made for similar transportation was in Mr. Morton's office. Some question came up with a clerk about the pass, and he spoke to Mr. Morton regarding it in the presence of the other railroad man. This man immediately chided Mr. Morton for violating pass rules and then retired. Mr. Morton's wrath immediately fell on the unfortunate clerk's head, and although the clerk is a high railroad official to-day, he says that he will never forget the scolding he received. He had no chance to explain or say a word. The next morning he ventured an apology, and Mr. Morton said: "Oh, that's all right, George. What made me mad was that fellow coming in here and violating the privacy of our affairs. You were not to blame, but we will get even with him by cutting off his annual."

The following story is told of Mr. Morton's youthful energy: With only a common school education, Paul, at the age of sixteen years, was booming the western country as land agent for the Burlington railway system. He was working on salary and commission.

"How much did you make this month?" his father asked him one day. The young man took out an account book and added some figures. "About $400," he answered.

"I didn't know what to say," his father would remark in telling the story. "I didn't know whether to be proud of such a boy or ashamed of a man who would let such a youngster get ahead of him and make more than he did."

Mr. Morton has been essentially a business man and has never run to fads or fancies. While he maintains a modest table that is essential for the comfort of his family, he is in no sense a horseman. Neither has he been prominently identified with the yachting or golfing enthusiasts of Chicago. He is a man of simple tastes and strenuous accomplishments. It is said that even in his younger days in Chicago he was never known to smoke or drink and that his only form of recreation used to be a quiet game of cards Saturday evenings. He is known as a good story teller and has long been in demand as an after dinner speaker at public affairs. Although he has a keen sense of humor, he is never accused of being a practical joker. The Western Freight association to this day is known as the "great reduction works," a name Mr. Morton applied to it when it agreed on a tariff schedule that did not meet his views.

One of the higher officers once came into Mr. Morton's room and complained of the amount of gas consumed in his department by clerks working overtime at night. Mr. Morton grimly posted a notice to the effect that thereafter all clerks who could not do their work during office hours would be discharged. Mr. Morton's progress has been uninterrupted since the age of sixteen years, when he chose to take a position with the Burlington and Missouri road at Plattsmouth, Neb. He was always alert to his opportunities and never lost a chance of seizing them. This is illustrated in a story that is told of the manner in which he became general freight agent of the Burlington road. Mr. Morton had always been a freight department man, but he had been compelled to accept the position of general passenger agent of the system. While he attended strictly to the duties of the office, he never left the work and waited for his opportunity to get back into the freight department. In a short time E. P. Ripley, who was then the freight agent of the road, resigned, and Mr. Stone, the general manager, called Mr. Morton in conference with other department chiefs to discuss an available man as Ripley's successor. Each in turn gave his opinion, and when it came to Mr. Morton he said: "Mr. Stone, I know just the man for the job. It is a fellow named Paul Morton." Mr. Morton's suggestion was adopted.

HINTS FOR FARMERS

Whey For Pigs.
There is nothing about sweet, clean whey that should be injurious to pigs of any age, and there is no reason why even sour whey, if no other objection can be raised to it, should be harmful, says Horard's Dairyman. But it is decidedly harmful to feed sour whey or sour skim milk one day and change to sweet skim milk or sweet whey the next day. The amount to be fed must be determined by circumstances. In each case, and no rules or suggestions can dispense with the exercise of good judgment by the feeder. Perhaps the nearest approach to a rule would be never to feed so much that the pigs would not take a little more or that they would not come to each feeding with a good, sharp appetite. It is always better to feed a little sparingly than to overfeed. The whey should be mixed with middlings in the proportion of one pound of the latter to from three to five pounds of whey, and if this does not afford liquid enough to gratify thirst let the deficiency be supplied by clean, fresh water. Whey is decidedly a one sided feedstuff, containing practically little but carbohydrate in the form of milk sugar. Middlings will tend to supply the necessary protein.

Large or Small Cows.
There is as yet no dependable proof that large cows will consume proportionately more roughage or to greater economy than small cows, says Horard's Dairyman. But, after all, it is not so much a matter of size that determines either the per cent of profit on food consumed or net profit per cow as it is the dairy temperament of the individual cow and the skill and ability bestowed upon her. There is really so little difference between the best cows in any of the dairy breeds, whether considered in per cent of profit or in net profit, that candid, well informed and unprejudiced men cannot be prevailed upon to advise others as to which breed to select, but without exception say select the breed which best suits individual fancy and then select animals that can produce satisfactory evidence of being worthy representatives of that breed. Mere breed name and pedigree should not suffice, for there are unprofitable animals in all breeds.

Cost of a Hen's Board.
If the grain a hen eats in a year is measured it will be found to be about a bushel, but this need not all be expensive wheat, says a Wisconsin poultry woman in American Agriculturist. In addition she will need considerable green food, bone and grit. The yearly cost of a hen's board cost runs from 75 cents to $1. The Utah station and my own accounts give 60 cents for the west. Neither a glutton nor a hungry hen is our ideal, but a compact, active one. A hen to produce a great product needs an eating capacity, as good cows do. She must show room for food, having length like Spanish fowls or depth like Wyandottes. She should have prominent breast and lungs, pliable neck and velvety comb, the last indicating a soft skin and good health.

Lime For Sweetening Soils.
Burned lime which has been exposed to the air for any length of time becomes converted into carbonate of lime, says a New York farmer in American Cultivator. In this state (air slaked lime) it is still a valuable material and supplies lime to the crop as well as exerting a sweetening effect upon sour soils, but the sweetening action is much less than is the case with freshly burned lime. Air slaked lime has little or no action in the mechanical improvement of the soil. For this purpose or for sweetening the soil lime should be freshly burned. If the lime which has been exposed to the air as described is returned it will have all the properties of freshly burned stone lime.

Clipping Queen Bees.
Clipping the wings of queens is not a difficult operation, although it seems hard to the beginner. Find the frame that contains the queen, adjust it in the revolving frame holder and lift the queen from the comb by grasping her wings between the thumb and forefinger of the right hand. Now take her legs between the thumb and finger of the left hand and with a pair of scissors cut off about half of one pair of her wings. Then let her run back on the comb, restore the frame to the hive and close the hive carefully.—American Agriculturist.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., Aug. 24, 1901.—For twelve years I have suffered from sweet diabetes and have spent hundreds of dollars with various doctors, with but little benefit. I was recommended to try a bottle of Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, and will cheerfully testify to the public that it did me more good than all the other another man. I have persuaded many of my friends to try it.

The SPORTING WORLD

Collins a Baseball General.
Captain-Manager Jimmy Collins of the champion Boston Americans is putting up a stiff fight for the pennant again this year, and from present indications his team should repeat the victory of a year ago.

Collins is one of the ablest baseball field generals as well as one of the cleverest infield players in the country. Surely it takes a versatile man to captain and manage a world's champion ball team and at the same time "hold down" in stellar form a hard position like third base.

Collins has the ablest aggregation of pitchers in the country, including Cy Young, Norman Gibson and Jesse Tannehill, and it is owing to their effectiveness that the Beane Eaters win so large a percentage of their games.

Able Athletes in the Middle West.

Arthur Hahn of Michigan, who won the hundred yard dash at Philadelphia, has been credited with beating ten seconds. Schule of Michigan, who won the high hurdles at Philadelphia, has done fifteen and two-fifths seconds on his home track, and it was the Michigan relay team which at Philadelphia ran completely away from the teams of Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Columbia and Pennsylvania. At the same games Swift of the University of Iowa won the discus throw with his 114 feet 4 inches, over four feet less than the throw that the Michigan freshman Garren made at the Ann Arbor spring games.

Dole of California has an unattended record of twelve feet one and seven-tenths inches in the pole vault, and Play of California, who holds the collegiate record for the hammer, threw the sixteen pound missile on his home field the extraordinary distance of 170 feet 5 inches. It was the maddening Ralph Rose of Michigan who, as everybody knows, smashed the world's record in the shot put at Philadelphia with his throw of forty-eight feet three and a half inches.

At the Michigan-Chicago dual meet Rose made this record forty-eight feet seven and one-fifth inches. Rose is still a very young man—he is only nineteen in spite of his six feet seven inches—and a large and florid career ought to be ahead of him as a weight thrower and as a football player.

Motor Boating.

The motor boat is the most recent and most alluring plaything devised for those who prefer sports in which the ordinary pleasures of the out of doors are combined with the application of mechanical skill. The motor boat calls for the same knowledge of machinery that is needed for motor driving. It presents to the hungry brain of the amateur chauffeur new problems in mechanics, and it gives him the opportunity of varying pleasantly the monotony of road touring with the novelty of touring on the water. He may drive his road car from his town house to his country place or yacht club station, jump into his motor boat and glide at a twenty knot clip over the water, and he needs now only a practical alrship runabout to attain perpetual motion. Indeed the story has been circulated that one rich American has already placed an order with Mr. Santos-Dumont for a flying machine. The Challenge cup races, held on the Hudson river, at New York, June 23, 24 and 25, were the most important events of the sort as yet run off.

MATHEW &amp; LLOYD.

Chicago, July 27.—Wheat—Market active and stronger with good trade. Foreign situation appeared to be the principal factor. Further foreign political complications causing feeling of nervousness to prevail. Chicago was stronger and British consols showed decline. Local professionals were prominent on the bull side and while realizing and profit-taking were general on the advance offerings. News were well absorbed. Late London cables reported the stock market demoralized and papers full of war talk. Strength of cash in southwest was a late bull factor. The close showed gains ranging from 3/4 to 1/2.

AS A MATTER OF PUBLIC INTEREST AND INFORMATION AS TO TRAIN SERVICE TO ESOPUS.

The Home of the Democratic Presidential Nominee.
Esopus is on the river division of the West Shore railroad, sixty-one miles from Albany, and all the great through trains over the New York Central make connection at Albany with West Shore trains for Esopus. In addition to West Shore local trains stopping at that point, it has been arranged to stop all through trains to land or pick up passengers.

ONE LADY'S RECOMMENDATION SOLD FIFTY BOXES OF CHAMBERLAIN'S STOMACH AND LIVER TABLETS.

I have, I believe, sold fifty boxes of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets on the recommendation of one lady here, who first bought a box of them about a year ago. She never tires of telling her neighbors and friends about the good qualities of these Tablets.—P. M. Shore, Druggist, Rochester, Ind. The pleasant purgative effect of these Tablets makes them a favorite with ladies everywhere. For sale by all leading druggists.

PATENT MEDICINES.

A man that compounds or invents something that is just a little better than the next best thing, is certainly entitled to the best share of the profits to be derived from the sale of the article. So he patents or copyrights to protect his interests. Patented goods are good goods, poor goods are never patented. We have 20 years of trial behind us to give us the assurance that we have the best medicine compounded for the cure of dyspepsia, sick-headache, biliousness, indigestion and all stomach disorders. We protect the public as well as ourselves by keeping the formula a secret, as long as we make it, we know it is made right and it cures these diseases. Druggists tell us that it is the one medicine that the sale is ever on the increase. To get the best remedy for dyspepsia or indigestion ask the druggist for Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills, price 25c per box, only one for a dose. For sale by Lee P. Alcott.

CURED OF CHRONIC DIARRHOEA AFTER TEN YEARS OF SUFFERING.

"I wish to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mrs. Mattie Burge, of Martinsville, Va. "I suffered from chronic diarrhoea for ten years and during that time tried various medicines without obtaining any permanent relief. Last summer one of my children was taken with cholera morbus, and I procured a bottle of this remedy. Only two doses were required to give her entire relief. I then decided to try the medicine myself, and did not use all of one bottle before I was well and I have never since been troubled with that complaint. One cannot say too much in favor of that wonderful medicine. This remedy is for sale by all leading druggists."

DATES AS FOOD.

Country Life In America records that Mr. David G. Fairchild, the agricultural explorer, who has visited the date producing regions of the old world, has written an account of his investigations for the department of agriculture, with special reference to date culture in America. "The doctors seem agreed," Mr. Fairchild says, "that sweet things in excess are injurious to the digestion, and the dentists claim that sugar ferments between the teeth, forming lactic acid, which attacks the dentine. But for all this it is doubtful if there can be found a sounder, stronger race with better digestion and finer, whiter teeth than the date eating Arabs."

Flogging in England's Navy.

Learning that boys up to eighteen in the British navy are still subjected to flogging, a committee of the Humanitarian League has requested that the admiralty give it permission to take photographs of the punishment, stating that it intends to placard the walls of London and the chief seaport towns with the pictures to enlighten the public on the subject.

Paper Kettles.

In the Japanese army every soldier carries with him kettles which are made of paper, the invention of one Daiju. The kettle is made of ordinary thin Japanese paper. It is filled with water, and then water is poured over it. It is hung over the fire, and in ten minutes the water is boiling. The kettle can be used eight or ten times, and the cost of it is about 2 cents.

Jokai and His Critic.

Some critics, especially the writer Gyulay, asserted that Jokai was incapable of writing a good novel according to the rules of the novelist's art, and Jokai at the latest Hungarian census took a humorous revenge by answering the question, "Can you write?" with the word, "In my opinion, yes, but Gyulay says no."

INDICATIONS.

Washington, July 28.—For Illinois: Fair in the north, thunderstorms in the south portion Thursday. Friday, fair and warmer.

POWER SPRAYING.

The following circular has been issued by J. C. Blair, chief in horticulture at the University of Illinois agricultural experiment station, at Urbana:

"Because of the wide interest which has recently developed among fruit growers with regard to power spraying, the department of horticulture of the University of Illinois has been making some tests of various types of machines now being made in the different parts of the country.

"In order that the fruit growers who are interested in such matters may have an opportunity to see these machines at work under actual field conditions, a number of them will be operated in the orchards of G. H. Ferrine & Sons, Centralia, Ill., Friday, July 29. They will be at work between 8 a. m. and 11 a. m.

"This particular location is selected because of the excellent facilities kindly offered by the Ferrine Bros. and because of the fact that Centralia is centrally located in the fruit growing section of the state—it being within easy reach of most of the commercial apple growers.

"The Ferrine orchards are one and one-half miles southeast from the Illinois Central depot at Centralia and transportation to and from the orchard will be provided by the local people at a nominal charge. The horticultural public is cordially invited to attend this demonstration and every effort will be made on the part of the department and the Ferrine Bros. to make the visit a pleasant and profitable one."

SUMMER SCHOOL HELD SESSION

Court House Philosophers Discuss Bryan But Are Unable to Reach an Agreement.

The court house school of philosophy held another session Wednesday and the subject announced was "Travel Abroad," but the second speaker made reference to the Bryan idea, which the Nebraskans had announced he would spring at the Democratic convention soon after his return from Europe, and after that politics held the boards.

Primus was a great believer in foreign travel. He wanted to know something about other countries than his own. The observations of foreign customs broadened the intellect and gave one new ideas. A trip to Europe was a liberal education in itself.

Secundus did not want to seem personal, but wondered if the last speaker referred to Bryan when he was talking about ideas. The Nebraskan announced soon after his return from Europe that he had gained some new ideas and that he would enunciate them at the Democratic national convention. He had watched the papers very closely, but had seen nothing of the Bryan idea.

Tertius thought that Bryan had enunciated too many ideas already. He was driven from the party in 1896 by his silver idea and had been politically adrift ever since. He felt that the time had come for Bryan to keep still and think with great violence. A few more breaks and he would find himself far outside of the breastworks of Democracy. He will be tolerated in the present campaign, but will not be heard in the secret councils of the party leaders.

Quartus was a great admirer of the Nebraskan. He was by all odds the greatest Democrat of the age. The gold bugs and Wall street sharks will find out how Parker stands with the masses when the campaign is over. He believed Bryan will yet be the Moses to lead the Democrats out of the wilderness.

Quintus wanted to know what had become of the "Young Man Absalom" idea, which was so prevalent in the canvass of 1900. The young man seemed to worry Mr. Bryan very much at that time, but so far as his observation was concerned the young man was still doing business at the same old stand, with opportunities before him larger than ever before.

Sextus was glad to see Bryan accept Parker's nomination with such good grace. It showed he was ever ready to bow to the will and dictum of his party. He believed the party was always greater than the man and felt that Bryan would render to the cause of Democracy the same devotion and service that was characteristic of him when his own presidential chances were at stake.

Septimus wondered what Bryan's gold speeches would come at per. If they were as high in proportion as those he made for the silver cause it would bankrupt the party treasury. He felt that Bryan's participation in the canvass would injure Parker's chances rather than help them.

Octavius said the last speaker had raised a very important question. Did Bryan receive money for making his silver speeches or did it go to the general campaign fund? He always understood that a great deal was expended in publishing "The First Battle."

Nonus said "The First Battle" had always appeared to him in the nature of a farce. There never had been but one battle and that was fought to a finish in the campaign of 1896. This idea of trying to keep alive dead issues was all nonsense.

Decimus brought up the subject of Coin's financial school, but the chairman stated that from present indications they would soon be on the subject of the flood and adjourned the session.

CLEAN UP.

Dr. E. F. Baker, of Jacksonville, representing the state board of health, was in the city Monday afternoon, leaving for Quincy on the evening train. The doctor said he was on no special business, but it is more than probable that some of our citizens who are careless about the condition of the alleys in the rear of their places may hear from the state board if they don't clean up.—Griggsville Press.

FISH STORY.

Altou, July 27.—Rev. Francis Myers, of Mitchell, was in Altou Monday night on his way to Winchester and he told of a big catch of a school of enormous spoon-bill catfish in Long lake at Mitchell, Sunday. Several fishermen were netting big fish in the lake and they caught five of the species known to fishermen as shovel-bill or spoon-bill catfish, and to the fish buyers as boneless catfish. The big fish are tough and almost valueless because of the strong, oily flavor of the meat and the only use to which they can be put is to furnish fish oil. The five fish aggregated in weight 625 pounds and were taken in several hauls of the net. Long lake is said to have many of these fish in its waters.

FUNERALS

SMITH.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Paulina Smith were held Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Portuguese Presbyterian church in the presence of many sorrowing relatives and friends. The services were in charge of Rev. R. F. Cressey, and Mrs. Lydia Scott, Mrs. Jennie Vasconcellos, John Day and John Vasconcellos sang appropriate hymns.

At the conclusion of the services the remains were borne to Jacksonville cemetery and were there laid to rest, the bearers being Henry De Frates, John R. Antonio and David Fernandes, and Samuel and John Nunes. The grave was covered with a great mass of beautiful flowers, which were in charge of Misses Edna and Geraldine Fernandes and Rosa and Della Smith.

CANDIDATES

WERE INITIATED

Large Class Received Into Mutual Protective League—Barry Drill Team Here.

Fidelity Council No. 269, Mutual Protective league, took in a class of seventy-one members Wednesday evening at their regular meeting. A class of six was initiated into the mysteries of the order by a team from Council No. 41, of Barry, said to be one of the best drilled teams in the jurisdiction. The membership of the team is as follows: George Caslentine, captain; Miss Mollie McLain, Fred Shepherd, Nora Bowers, Edward Seahorn, Fannie Arnett, George Hart, Marion Hayes, Katie V. C. Horn, Nora Wike, John McKinzie and Lizzie Gray. The remaining sixty-five candidates took the obligations of the order.

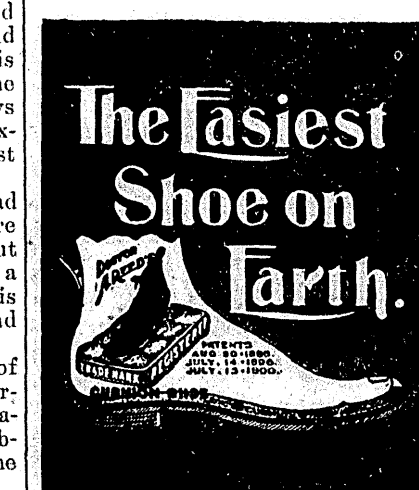

After the work of the meeting was concluded the Barry team gave an exhibition drill which called forth many favorable comments from the spectators. Refreshments were then served by the lady members and a social time was enjoyed.

The M. P. L. is in a flourishing condition, numbering 24,000 members in the state. There are four councils in this city with a membership of 500. At the next meeting of the council, in two weeks, forty more candidates will be received.

The unusual increase in membership is due to the good work of J. T. Crowder, general deputy, who secured the large class within the last three weeks, and whose genial manner makes him a gentleman whom it is a pleasure to meet.
